

Islam and adoption

Friday 7 November 2014
2.15pm - 3.30pm

Harrow Central Mosque
34 Station Road, Harrow, Middlesex HA1 2SQ

Find out about adoption from a Muslim perspective.

In the UK today there are children of all faiths, including Islam, who need families. Brothers and Sisters are welcome to come and hear a personal perspective on adopting from a mother who is Muslim, and hear about why adoption is an important issue for our community.

Adoption from a Muslim perspective

Friday 7 November 2014
2.15pm - 3.30pm

Ground Floor Function Hall, Harrow Central Mosque,
34 Station Road, Harrow, Middlesex HA1 2SQ

The Coram-Harrow adoption partnership is holding a special event for those interested in adoption from a Muslim perspective. Brothers and Sisters are welcome.

As well as an introduction to Coram's adoption services, there will be a short talk from an adoptive mother who is Muslim and a special short film screening from a new documentary series by the Islam Channel, which considers issues around adoption and Islam.

Schedule for the day

2.15pm - 2.30pm

Welcome and introduction to panellists. Short film clip featuring 'vox pop' where Muslims give their opinion about Islam and adoption.

2.30pm - 3pm

Panellist talks:

- Hellan Timothy James, Coram/Harrow adoption service
- 'My adoption story' a Muslim adopter gives a personal perspective
- 'Can I have a new mummy and daddy?' Islam Channel Producer Yeota Imam introduces film screening.

3pm - 3.30pm

Q and A with panel.

3.30pm

Refreshments served and opportunity for further informal discussion.
